DR. ROBERTSON DEEDS PATENT RIGHTS OF DISCOVERY TO UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 25.—It was not enough for Dr. T. Brailsford Robertson, Professor of Biochemistry at the University of California, to discover "Tethelin"—a substance which heals wounds heretofore incurable. He was determined that no profiteers should fill his coffers from the profits of his discovery, but that humanity for ages to come should profit from his work. So he has executed a deed to the University of California of all his patent rights and profits of his new discovery, the income therefrom—which will be large—to form an endowment for an Institute of Medical Research. The Regents of the University are named trustees for the endowment, while the board of directors will be Dr. F. P. Gay, Dr. H. M. Evans, Dr. Geo. H. Whipple and Dr. C. L. A. Schmidt, all of the University of California. The Institute is to direct special attention to research in physiology, chemistry and pathology of growth. The only personal provision in the endowment is that if Dr. Robertson becomes disabled for work, his present salary from the University shall continue, and after his death shall be paid to his widow during her life. Tethelin is considered probably the most important of all the array of science's startling discoveries since the world war started. After a wound had been rendered aseptic Tethelin, applied to the wound, stimulates the tissues and heals. Europe's war hospitals are crowded with cases of men who for months have been suffering from wounds such as burns which refuse to heal. These yield in a few days' time to Tethelin. Frost bite, cases where varicose veins have destroyed the rebuilding powers of the tissue and even old scars yield quickly to Tethelin.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Sept. 25.—A. Francis Scott, charged with murdering his one day old child, came before the superior court for trial today.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Sept. 25.—Governor W. D. Stephens, President Thelan of the railroad commission and Archbishop Hanna were the leading speakers at today's session of the California League of Municipalities. The convention got down to hard work today after disposing of the preliminaries yesterday. President Wallace Rutherford of the Municipalities League opened this morning's session with a brief outline of the work to be done and was followed by an address of welcome by Mayor J. C. Mailer and response by Senator S. C. Evans of Riverside. "Why the State Is Interested in Better Municipal Government" was Governor Stephens' topic. He told the city officers how good local government makes for good state government and strengthens administration of laws in the community. At noon Mark Cohn of the state immigration and housing commission spoke during luncheon. The Most Rev. Archbishop E. J. Hanna was the chief speaker of the early afternoon, taking "Co-operation between State and Municipal Authorities to Secure Better Living Conditions" as his topic. The address of President Max Thelan of the railroad commission on "The Significance of New Laws Relative to Grade Crossings within Municipalities" was the outstanding feature of the late afternoon. The Pure Food Show will be the leading event to-night.

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 25.—The annual Fresno county fair opened here today with a large attendance and the greatest collection of exhibits ever gathered in the county. A baby show is to be a feature.

MRS. BAKER'S BIRTHDAY

A delightful birthday party was given yesterday for Mrs. Caroline Baker, 87 years of age, at the home of her son, F. S. Baker, 348 Orange Grove. The house, decorated originally with white carnations and asparagus ferns, was soon a bower of blossoms brought in by the many neighbors and friends who love "Grandma" Baker. She was a very sweet and happy hostess in her pretty lavender and white muslin with white slippers. Dainty refreshments were served and one of Mrs. Baker's old friends read a newspaper account which she had carefully preserved telling of a former birthday party given as a surprise for Mrs. Baker by the W. R. C. ladies in her home town in Iowa on the occasion of her eightieth birthday. She is in the best of health, with lovely white hair, and even at her advanced age reads without glasses and hears perfectly. Her Glendale friends look forward to celebrating many more such happy birthdays with her.

HONOR DRAFTED MEN

ENTERTAINMENT BY RED CROSS TO MEN LEAVING ON OCTOBER 3 AND 16

Arrangements are being perfected to hold a reception and entertainment for those young men in County District No. 7 who are due to leave for training camp early in October. It is understood that the majority are to leave on October 3 and 16, and the Glendale Chapter A. R. C. desires to give an expression of good will and friendship to those who have answered their country's call.

Under the direction of Dr. Henry R. Harrower, Chairman of Entertainment, an interesting program is under way and an invitation is extended to all those whose draft has been affirmed, their relatives and friends and to the general public to come to this reception-entertainment, which will be held in the High School auditorium on Monday evening next, October 1st, at 7:45. There will be no admission fee and probably no collection.

The Red Cross desires the co-operation of all patriotic citizens in making this reception a success, and any who will volunteer their active services to help in any way are asked to call Glendale 43 early this week.

FOOTBALL CLUB

Members of the Foothill club, an organization of ladies residing in that section of Glendale suggested by their name, held the first meeting of the season after the summer vacation period on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Larkey, 1305 North Central avenue.

This club was originally formed for social purposes and it was formerly the plan for the hostess to provide some form of entertainment, as cards or guessing games, for the guests. But with the entrance of our country into the war the ladies decided they would not be satisfied to spend their time in that way and decided to take up Red Cross work. They are continuing that work this year and the pleasant hum of conversation was heard as the needles flew.

Huge jars of sunflowers provided a spirit of autumn in Mrs. Larkey's spacious rooms, where she graciously entertained her guests. Her house guest, Mrs. Harry Stollstimer, sang several vocal solos in her sweet, mellow voice and the hostess served a dainty luncheon. The ladies of the club joined in singing America with Mrs. N. C. Kelley at the piano and all gave the salute to the flag.

Mrs. William C. Porter, Mrs. William Cutler and Mrs. Perce H. Curtis were received as members of the club.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REVIVES

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce Monday evening it was decided by that body that it is their duty to take a more active interest in the doings of the chamber. Since last February the work of this organization has been entirely left in the hands of the secretary, Walt Le Noir Church, who has devoted all of his time to work that pertains to building up the Glendale community.

Now since the vacation season is over and business has settled down to its usual level, there is an opportunity for holding get-together meetings and working out plans of co-operation and promotion. The directors will hold their first co-operation meeting Thursday evening of this week.

ANNUAL RALLY

The Annual Rally of all members of the First M. E. Church was held Monday evening, September 24, at the social hall, with marked success. Over two hundred joined together in eating the basket lunches, served as a delightful picnic supper, and all listened with great interest to the two speakers of the evening. Dr. H. W. Barnum of Pasadena spoke on "The Layman Making the Church a Power," and Mr. Charles Carver of South Pasadena talked on "Financing the Kingdom."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

At the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last evening, it was decided to call a general meeting for Thursday evening, September 27th, at 8 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, 1010 West Broadway. Not only members, but the public generally are invited to discuss matters of special importance to Glendale.

WALT. LE NOIR CHURCH,
Secretary.

LONDON RAIDED BY ZEPPELINS

GERMANS AGAIN ATTACK LONDON FROM THE AIR AND KILL AND INJURE SCORES BEFORE BEING DRIVEN OFF

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, September 25.—Fifteen were killed and seventy injured, the official casualty list announced this morning, in last night's German Zeppelin raid over London. The raiders were driven off by anti-aircraft gun fire. Only one or two machines penetrated the home defenses.

GENERAL STRIKE IN ARGENTINA

SOUTH AMERICAN COUNTRY THREATENED WITH FAMINE BY STRIKE WHICH TIES UP RAILROADS

BUENOS AIRES, September 25.—Argentina is paralyzed by a general strike which has tied up all railroads and cut off telegraph communication, and threatens famine. In scores of cities it was learned on high authority that the Germans are paying many of the strikers' expenses to prevent their return to work. One hundred twenty thousand men are already out. The government is striving to settle the difficulty.

WAR BOND MEASURE BECOMES LAW

PRESIDENT WILSON SIGNS BILL FOR LARGEST WAR CREDIT EVER AUTHORIZED AT ONE TIME

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 25.—The $11,500,000,000 war bond measure is a law. President Wilson signed the bill late last night, the White House announced to-day. The bond bill is the largest war credit ever authorized at one time and will raise $4,000,000,000 for new loans to Allies at 4 per cent, $3,000,000,000 to take up the old 3½ per cent. Allied loan, 2 billions to be issued in treasury certificates of indebtedness running one year and 2 billions in war saving certificates running five years. The latter may be purchased by small investors in denominations as low as $4.10, such certificates bringing in $5 at maturity. The bond law also provides $538,945,460 for the Danish West Indies and Alaskan Government and Panama Canal construction.

OIL CARRIER EXPLODES

TWO MEN KILLED AND TWO INJURED BY EXPLOSION OF STANDARD OIL TANKER

RICHMOND, Cal., September 25.—Two men were killed and two injured when the Standard Oil tanker J. O. Moffatt exploded at a wharf this morning. Investigation is going on and it is believed that it was caused by some outside agent.

NO PROBE IN BERNSTORFF EXPOSE

SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN IN CONFERENCE DECIDE TO TAKE NO ACTION IN "SLUSH FUND" CASE

WASHINGTON, September 25.—There is to be no Congressional probe on the Bernstorff "slush fund" expose. This is asserted following the conference of Senators and Congressmen.

REPRESENTATIVES MAY ESCAPE PUNISHMENT

HOUSE IS DIVIDED ON PUNISHMENT OF HEFLIN AND HOWARD FOR INSINUATIONS

WASHINGTON, September 25.—The House is divided on the punishment to be meted out to Representatives Heflin and Howard for insinuating that some Congressmen were interested in Bernstorff's $50,000 "slush fund." Representatives Norton and Ferdney demand that the two be expelled unless they prove the truth of statements made. Those more friendly suggest a formal reprimand.

EXAMINATION OF REGISTERED MEN LIMITED

SENATE PROVIDES FOR EXAMINATION OF THOSE ONLY WHO CAN BE CLOTHED, FED AND EQUIPPED

WASHINGTON, September 25.—The Senate limited the examination of men registered in the selective draft to "those who can be clothed, fed and equipped." This limit is to prevent the examination of all remaining registered men at one time, as desired by the War Department. It will be possible to have 1,500,000 men under arms by October 15, which our War Department plans. If a hurry call is issued by the president for more men, Congress will have to authorize the money for examining them.

RANDOLPH'S DEATH

RESPECTED CITIZEN OF GLENDAL MEETS DEATH IN FRONT OF S. P. LOCOMOTIVE

A. W. Randolph, who resided at 865 S. Glendale Ave., and who operated a ranch west of the Southern Pacific railroad between Glendale and Burbank, met with a tragic death Monday evening.

Mr. Randolph was crossing the Southern Pacific railroad track in an automobile, near his ranch at about 6:30 o'clock when a train on that road bound for Los Angeles ran him down and so seriously injured him that he died at about eleven o'clock. Soon a large concourse of people gathered at the scene of the trouble, and kind friends rendered all possible aid. A physician was called and everything within human power was resorted to to save the life of a worthy citizen, but all without avail as death came to the relief of the sufferer at the hour mentioned above.

Mr. Randolph was removed to Burbank as hurriedly as possible and temporary relief given his wounds and Mrs. Randolph was notified immediately of her husband's accident and rushed to Burbank and had the injured man removed to his home.

Mr. Randolph was born in Traer, Tama county, Iowa, February 4, 1863, and resided in that section until he came to California in 1904, settling in Glendale. In 1906 he was married to Miss Ina McCowan. He leaves to mourn his sudden death his wife, one daughter, Mildred, aged seven, and three sisters in Iowa, and a sister, Mrs. Fred Reed in Burbank; also two brothers, one in Long Beach, and one in Spokane, Washington. The funeral is in charge of the Jewel City Undertaking Company.

MYSTERIOUS STRANGER

There is a medium tall, smooth-faced man, wearing a dark suit and black stiff hat calling on homes in Glendale and asking for information as to telephone numbers, number of families in the house and the rental value, etc. At some places he represents himself as from the telephone office. This is not true, and if such an individual calls on you, report to the police; he may not be "on the square," especially as he has to prevaricate in his introductory remarks.

BRITISH RECRUITING MEN IN GLENDAL

Yesterday two British soldiers dropped into town and made themselves known at the British Ambulance Headquarters, being attracted by the large Union Jack hanging in the window. They made known their mission as rounding up Britishers between 21 and 45 for the Los Angeles Recruiting Office. It is not known what success they had, but they spoke of coming out again.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Goss will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at the First Methodist church Wednesday evening, September 26, 1917, at 5 o'clock. The affair will be entirely informal and no invitations have been issued.

ATTENTION, RED CROSS KNITTERS

On Monday evening, October 1st, I must give my monthly report of the number of knitters, names, amount of yarn taken out by each and when taken, the number of articles finished by each, and amount of yarn and needles still in their possession, so please report in full by next Monday. Also must have finished articles turned in by that time, as they are to be shipped immediately. Club presidents please give full reports.

MRS. GEO. D. CARTER,
Chairman of Knitting.

FREE DELIVERY OF MAIL IN SIERRA MADRE

Sierra Madre is to have free delivery of mail from the postoffice in that little city. Although the city is lacking in population to secure such a service, it is 100 per cent. good in postoffice receipts, which according to a new law must equal $5000 annually. The citizens of Sierra Madre owe Congressman Randall a vote of thanks for their city being thus favored. Mr. Randall recently visited Sierra Madre, learned of the needs of the city in the way of mail delivery facilities and then wired advice to Washington and within 48 hours the right to have free mail distribution in Sierra Madre was granted.

FIREWORKS EXPECTED AT REICHSTAG MEETING

There may be some fireworks of the German brand, when the Reichstag meets in Berlin tomorrow.

It will be the first session of the German parliament since Chancellor George Michaelis was inducted into office, in July. The Centerists and members of the Left party combined at that time in demands that the government state its position on the Reichstag formula of peace "without annexations" and also that equal suffrage be granted. The upshot was the tumbling from power of Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg. Michaelis was appointed, made a non-committal address to the Reichstag outlining his policies, and the Reichstag sitting adjourned.

Since that time considerable opposition has developed against Michaelis according to word which has just leaked out of Germany. Certain of the extreme radical elements in Germany have not hesitated to declare that Michaelis is even more representative of the militarists than Hollweg. His refusal to date clearly to outline his policies have made even the near-radicals distrustful of him. Dr. Matthias Erzberger, the Clerical (Catholic) leader who assumed leadership of the "revolvers" in the July session of the Reichstag, has been quoted recently as severely critical of Michaelis.

Erzberger, a Catholic, is undoubtedly anxious that Germany go the limit in voicing acceptance of Pope Benedict's recent peace suggestions. He may seek to force Michaelis' hand on this matter.

Over all, however, it appears that the "revolvers" may be beginning to realize the sweeping "reforms" promised by the Kaiser are still empty promises, and that Hollweg has been replaced by an even stronger militarist taskmaster, from whom there is not the slightest hope of obtaining any concessions towards democratization.

The September session of the Reichstag will at once face the question of financing Germany for the next year of the war. Approval of the budget is virtually the only power which the Reichstag exercises. The budget should, in the ordinary course of events, have been approved at the July sitting, but its consideration was postponed in view of the radical revolt. The radicals, if they are truly in earnest, have it in their power beginning tomorrow to seriously embarrass the autocratic government by withholding approval of the money measure.

According to word from Holland and Switzerland the Reichstag members are likely also to attempt explanation from Chancellor of the Luxburg incident, at Buenos Aires, wherein the United States discovered that the German charge was sending messages to his home office through the Swedish embassy. Reichstag members will probably be more concerned in why Count Luxburg was untactful enough to send the opinions he did in the fashion discovered by the United States.

Germany's food administration appears likely also to come in for considerable criticism.

DISCOVERS TYPHOID CARRIER WHO CAUSED TWENTY-FOUR CASES

Another skirmish has been won in the successful California warfare against typhoid. The discovery of a woman "typhoid carrier" who in the past year has caused twenty-four cases of typhoid has just been announced by Dr. J. G. Cumming, Assistant Clinical Professor of Preventative Medicine in the University of California, and Director of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases, maintained at University by the State Board of Health.

A year ago, reports Dr. Cumming, there were a series of cases of typhoid in Bakersfield, including one each in June and July and five in August. There have scattered cases there at intervals ever since. Now the cause has been found—a woman working as a bottle in a dairy some miles out in the country from Bakersfield. She had never suspected that her physical condition was such that, though perfectly well herself, she is a source of typhoid infection for others.

The discovery of the woman who had caused this series of typhoid cases was particularly difficult because the milk from this particular dairy had not been supplied regularly to one single dairy, but had been mixed with the milk of various different dairies and thus scattered about.

Professor Cumming has discovered also a typhoid carrier in Alameda who is known to have been innocently responsible for four different cases of typhoid—all in her own household, for she never came into direct contact with food consumed by the general public.

Extraordinary progress has been made in recent years in controlling typhoid in California. During the past year the annual death rate from typhoid was only about a third of what it was ten years ago.

In order still further to improve California's splendid record in the fight against this wholly unnecessary disease, a vaccine by which people may be immunized against typhoid is being made by the Bureau of Communicable Diseases. This anti-typhoid vaccine will be sent free to any physician in California who writes to the Bureau of Communicable Diseases, in care of the University of California at Berkeley.

FINE LOT OF SOLDIERS

CAMP LEWIS, American Lake, Washington, Sept. 25.—The finest soldiers in the world is what army officers declare they will make out of the raw civilians sent to Camp Lewis. "They are the finest of men," declared a veteran officer. "They're clean, physically fit and quick to learn."

"Not only is the physical condition of the men the finest," was the statement of Captain Reynolds in charge of physical examination "but the spirit of the men is excellent."

"They are a better bunch than would have been secured through the volunteer system," declared Captain J. R. Montgomery after a week in command of Company B, 362nd regiment, infantry. "And the spirit isn't at all what was predicted. I never saw a more earnest bunch of men. They are clamoring for drill manuals, some of them even buying their own. On Sunday scores remained in camp, picked instructors from their own numbers and drilled for hours, preferring work to taking the leave to which they were entitled."

BUSINESS EDUCATION

There is no part of a boy or a girl's education quite so valuable in life as a business education. The young man or the young woman who goes out into the world with a knowledge of the principles of commercial arithmetic, and the ability to express intelligently his thoughts in writing, and do it accurately and quickly, need not go without employment.

A lack of thoroughness in school work at the present time leaves many young people helpless after finishing a high school course. Learn something and learn that something well. It is a very practical rule to follow in pursuing a course at school. Too often young people are encouraged to take too many studies and by so doing they are forced to do superficial work.

NEBRASKA'S POTASH BUSINESS PERMANENTLY ESTABLISHED

Nebraska's potash lakes are doing their bit in this war and plants for working the potash from the waters of the lakes are springing up in Western Nebraska like mushroom towns in a new mining region. Plenty of capital is offered to finance the projects, and the work is not to be discontinued after the war, according to those engaged in the business.

A University of Nebraska professor discovered that the lakes in the sand hill region east of Alliance, Nebr., were heavy with potash in suspension. Plants are now at work working the potash from this water.

Most of the potash furnished the world came from Germany before the war, and the domestic potash proves to be a valuable aid to America in its war work, now that the original importation supply is cut off.

One of the largest plants is now being erected near Alliance, the water bearing potash being pumped from the lakes twenty miles away. Thousands of men are employed in the industry, and all the plants are carefully guarded against bomb plots and other pro-German activities.

NO BRIGAND

Congressman Hull of Iowa sent free seeds to a constituent in a franked envelope, on the corner of which were the usual words, "Penalty for Private use, $300." A few days later he received a letter which read:

"I don't know what to do about the garden seeds you sent me. I notice it is $300 fine for private use. I don't want to use them for the public. I want to plant them in my private garden. I can't afford to pay $300 for the privilege. Won't you see if you can't fix it so I can use them privately? I am a law abiding citizen and do not want to commit any crime."

While on her Red Cross jaunt to Dead Man's Island last Sunday, Mrs. Mabel Ocker visited her sister, Miss Veta Franklin, who superintends the department of domestic science in the Long Beach schools.

Mrs. Jeanette Smith of Broadway was wheeled down to the Red Cross headquarters yesterday so that she could officiate as Chief Cutter for the Committee on Hospital Garments. Mrs. Smith has a badly bruised toe, which made the wheel chair necessary.

Saturday evening, September 14th, Mrs. G. W. Henderson of 611 North Louise street was hostess at a birthday dinner given in honor of her sister, Mrs. E. C. Brown of Hollywood. Covers were laid for six. After a delicious course dinner, the remainder of the evening was spent at cards.

J. Sherman, the man who does artistic tailoring at 1024 West Broadway, Glendale, was formerly a resident of Santa Monica and, being a good Elk, he participated in the Elks' Gambol in that city last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mr. Sherman's part in the program in the parade was to ride a donkey.

The yacht that a company of ten young men of Glendale secured last spring with the intention of fitting up and launching on the waters at one of the beach cities, is still in Glendale on account of war conditions. J. H. Fanset, Jesse Smith, Dr. Fay Stone, Rodger Brown and others are the owners of this beautiful yacht.

It has been reported to us that Sergeant McElroy of the 9th Co., stationed at Dead Man's Island, came up to Glendale Sunday purposely to visit Mrs. Nanno Woods and to thank her on behalf of the soldier boys for the candies, books and magazines sent to camp on Thursday. He reports that the boys are eagerly looking forward to "Pie Day," October 5th.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

The number of comfort bags taken to Dead Man's Island last Sunday was given in yesterday's News as 25—it should have been 52. Apologies are due to the Committee on Comfort Bags.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY GLENDALÉ BRANCH

The regular meeting took place yesterday, the working war being open at eleven as usual. There was a good attendance and much work accomplished.

A very delicious afternoon tea was served in Ye Ginger Tavern at four o'clock by Mrs. J. C. Sherer, hostess for the day. The pretty rooms were more attractive than ever, the tables being decorated with pale pink roses and plumbago from "Somerset Farm" and the patriotic effect was given by the two handsome flags always used at these teas. Mrs. Sherer was assisted by Mrs. Alex. Mitchell, Miss Barbara Mitchell and Miss Helen Begg. These teas are given every Monday and the Glendale public is cordially invited to attend and thereby help in a most worthy and needy cause, at the same time enjoying a very pleasant little social gathering.

Notice is hereby given that a soldiers' Christmas party is to be given in Ye Ginger Tavern Tuesday, Oct. 9th, afternoon and evening. Mrs. Ginger having most generously offered the free use of her beautiful hostelry for the purpose. The object of the affair is to get presents for our soldier boys in all the Allied armies and every one is asked to bring a present, put it in a sock or package with your name and address inside and mark it for "Tommy" or "Sammy" or whatever nationality you wish to favor. Suitable gifts are handkerchiefs, socks, pipe, tobacco, chewing gum, dried fruit, candy, fruit cake, plum pudding or something Californian. There will be a Christmas tree and many other attractive features. In the afternoon, tea will be served. In the evening there will be a short program and dancing. No admission will be charged and refreshments will be only 15 cents. Further details will be given shortly.

AMBULANCE PILLOWS AGAIN

The Ambulance Pillow Section is again ready to plunge into work for the front.

Columbus Avenue School, under Mrs. Taylor's leadership, to-day opens its sewing room to the children for the cutting of cloth and tissue paper for the ambulance pillows.

Work will soon be started in the Intermediate sewing room under the direction of Mrs. Yarik.

There is great need for these pillows and it is hard to get them made. Los Angeles has discontinued its section and many of its auxiliaries have followed its example. But the need of the pillows continues and those of us who have the patience and industry must make up for those who have not. At the front they are needed so badly that trained nurses cut and fill them after they have put in a long, hard day nursing wounded men. That is not right and we can help to make it unnecessary. Glendale is the only place where children do this work. Everywhere else it is done by the women and there is not enough done. Girls for the ambulance pillows; boys for the newspapers. Both can do a great work.

MAYBELLE DOUGLAS,
Chairman of Ambulance Pillows.

NOTICE FOR CLUB MEMBERS

GLENDALÉ EVENING NEWS.

RED CROSS NOTES

Washington, September 24.

H. P. Davison, Chairman of the Red Cross War Council, announces the receipt of the following cable from the Red Cross Commission to France:

"Along that desolate path of ruin behind the French and British lines from Belgium to Switzerland, the American Red Cross work of relief and economic rehabilitation under Edward Eyre Hunt, Chief of the Bureau, has rapidly taken shape. Returning refugees and repatriates have earth under them and sky over them—that is all. The land has been swept clean."

"Twentieth Century Frenchmen have to begin again where North American Indians would begin—by hunting for food, temporary shelter, a few clothes to cover them, a handful of household goods and utensils such as pots, pans, knives and spoons, an agricultural implement or two and perhaps a rabbit and some chickens, and, if they are lucky, a goat or a donkey."

"It is to help such people as these that the American Red Cross has located its relief warehouses at strategic points just behind the lines, such as Soissons, Noyon, Ham and Peronne, and is shipping in food, clothes, blankets, beds, mattresses, stoves, kitchen utensils, reapers and binders, mowing-machines, threshing-machines, garden tools and hundreds of other articles of prime importance to people who were prosperous and contented only three years ago. The service of relief and economic rehabilitation has divided its field into six districts:

"One for the extreme north and Pas de Calais; one for the Somme; one for the Oise; one for the Aisne; one for the Marne and Meuse; one for Meurthe and Mosell."

"Resident American delegates have been assigned to these whose duties are to oversee distribution of relief, to report new needs, and to co-operate in every possible way with the admirable relief work of the French Government and scores of devoted French and other organizations."

NEW THOUGHT

Masonic Temple, 532 S. Brand Blvd. Listen to this: Dr. Pfeiffer says: "I stand with one hand holding on to all the good of the old thought and reaching out with the other hand for all that is good in the new. Let us not forget how much we owe to the old. It matters little what church we are in; the main thing is to know God and connect that knowledge with our fellowman."

"What does humanity need most of all? The single need of knowing God. We need tremendously to know that we need a realization of God. John 17:3. 'This is the eternal life, to know God.' Eternal means not alone unending life after death as we used to think, but has a meaning of character qualities. To know is not to know intellectually but intimately, as dwelling within us, or, experientially, as one having experienced the indwelling."

"Edward Everett Hale, that noted Unitarian, quoted the following, which is to my mind a wonderful paraphrase of John 17:3:

"Look up and not down, look out and not in, look forward and not back; and lend a hand."

"The definition of man according to the Greek is the 'upward gazing one.' The landscape of our lives must contain a sky. Look up even when cast down. Let nothing obstruct our vision of the sky. Two men stood behind prison bars; one saw only the mud, while the other saw the stars."

"God uses the people that look up, not only the educated ones but the humble. Truth is always seeking expression. The men who look up get the vision. Luther, Garibaldi, Washington, Lincoln, Wilson were found worthy and truth found expression through them."

"The art of meditation is a lost art. The newer lines of thought are trying to reinstate this lost art, this withdrawing to recuperate spiritual energies. Have a time for communion with God."

"Give me the spiritual vision with the wrong intellectual viewpoint rather than the true intellectual vision with the materialistic viewpoint. In the silence, in the quiet hour, we gain the moral courage for the day's vicissitudes. The church needs more than anything else a revival of praying. Look out and see God, good in everything."

"To me the meanest flower that blows,

Gives thought that lies too deep for words."

This wonderfully appealing message from Dr. Pfeiffer was followed by a song, "Just for To-day," by Mrs. Carmack.

"The Rock (Symbolism)"

By Mrs. Becker

"Happiness must be builded on a rock. The rock represents that which cannot be moved. Whatever seems to be the lack you want to have filled, the first thing to start with to demonstrate is that you are not material. 'The I' is not the physical nor only the thinking, reasoning individual, for we are neither mind or body but a bit of divinity. This divinity lives in a body and uses a mind. The first truth to build on is that you are a bit of divinity. And this divinity can control the body and the mind. Until we can control our minds we can't control the race."

"The rock is that absolute thing

"HOW DO THEY DO IT?"

For the small sum of $12.50 I can furnish you an accident policy, good as gold, that will pay you a life income of $54.00 per month in case you are permanently disabled. You will get $3750.00 in case of death by any ordinary accident; $7500, if killed while on a trolley car, elevator, or jitney; and $9375.00 if killed on a railroad train. Pays liberal hospital, surgical and other indemnities. I know of no other protection "just as good."

CANADA RAISING BUFFALOES

An advisory board on wild life protection has recently been appointed by the Canadian Government, and special efforts will be made to preserve the fur-bearing animals and big game that constitute the chief natural resources of the northwest territories. In this connection it is interesting to learn that more than 3000 head of bison are now under government protection in Canada. These include about 2400 in the herd, originally of 750 head, purchased in the United States in 1907 and kept in the buffalo park at Wainwright, Alberta, and a wild herd of about 500 in the Peace River region, southwest of Great Slave Lake.

we base our faith on. New Thought to me is the only thing that proves the absolute thing without the personal. In different religions you will find a personality instead of a principle or universal truth. No one has a right to put their individual stamp on truth. Truth belongs to God, not an individual. Get hold of truth so big and so wide that it belongs to the whole universe."

This next Wednesday the Bible class will be held at the home of Mrs. A. M. Salyer, 301 South Central avenue, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Pfeiffer will continue with his wonderfully illuminating explanation of the different phrases of the "Lord's Prayer." Everybody welcome.

LA CRESCENTA

The mention of George Washington probably recalls more vividly to mind the cherry tree incident than the fact that he was the savior of his country, so thoroughly has the story been instilled into the minds of the youth of the country. Therefore, the announcement that Marguerite Clark is starred by the Famous Players in this Paramount picture, Miss George Washington, conjures up one of two pictures, a girl who cannot tell a lie or one who cannot tell the truth. In this case the producers have chosen to parody the name and the story deals with one of the most accomplished fibbers and mischief-makers that one could imagine. Before the story closes everybody is deceiving everybody else and there is scarcely a reputation that is not torn to shreds. But it is all in good fun and it all turns out for the best. Miss George Washington is one of the most delightful comedies in which fascinating Marguerite Clark has ever appeared. Come out next Tuesday night and see her.

Mrs. B. F. Miller, the librarian, announces the library will be closed Tuesday, October 9, afternoon, and open on Wednesday, the 10th, instead.

Dr. Louis Weber entertained the flute club and other friends last Sunday at a duck dinner at his Crescenta ranch. After dinner delightful music by members of the club, Mr. Victor Schertzinger, violinist, Miss Schertzinger, harpist, and Mrs. Gunquist, saxophone-player. The guests lingered until late in the evening and the Doctor was voted an ideal host and Crescenta a beautiful valley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brown are in receipt of a cablegram from India announcing the birth of a son to their missionary son and wife in far-off India. Congratulations are in order.

Mr. Fred Russell came near having a serious fire on Tuesday evening. While trying to reach a setting hen, he overturned a lighted lamp in a newly filled scratch pen, setting it afire. The timely arrival of the neighbors prevented any very great damage. He lost about 20 hens and the straw in the pen, but the building was not even scorched.

Mr. L. A. Potter is building on his lot on Mayfield. The plans were drawn by Mr. Hopping and it will be a fine large house, 28x32.

Mrs. Helen Eaton has for a house guest Mrs. Quincy A. Hall of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Charles Woolsey had an unexpected but delightful visit from some old neighbors from Chatsworth.

Mrs. Mary Thompson has two boys in the Liberty army. Joe has been transferred to New York and will leave on the Kearsarge shortly for France. Lee leaves to-day for his camp.

Mrs. A. W. Brown spent the week in Los Angeles, visiting friends and the local Red Cross.

What if your boy's wounds were tied up with newspaper for lack of bandages. Won't you help roll some? Come out to the Red Cross classes, Tuesday and Thursday, 10:30 to 4:30 at the school house.

SUNLAND

Mrs. Capt. Anderson of Ontario has been the guest of Mrs. Capt. Cushman this week.

Mrs. Edwards and sons of Redondo were week-end guests at the home of Mr. E. Lancaster.

Mrs. Frank Carey and Mrs. K. Hill spent the day Tuesday fishing at the beach. The result—the guests at the tavern were treated to a fine mess of fish.

There will be a meeting of the "School Improvement club" at Mrs. Bernhard's store Tuesday, September 25, at 2:30. The president desires a full attendance, as it is the annual election of officers, etc.

The ladies of the Red Cross turned in to headquarters a fine lot of socks, sweaters, hospital shirts, napkins and tray cloths. The past month's work. Everybody is invited to come help with this work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Iman and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, all of Long Beach, motored to Sunland Tuesday to spend the day with Mr. Lyman's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harding, and cousin, Mrs. F. Frisbee. They brought lunch and all enjoyed a picnic dinner in the beautiful Monta Vista Park. All enjoyed a very pleasant day.

The guests at the Graham ranch this week were Mrs. Rodney Jones and Miss Eva Potter of Boston.

Col. Lovell of the railroad commission entertained a party of friends at a well-appointed chicken dinner and Mrs. Graham served her noted hot biscuits. The dinner was a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and party were week-end guests at the ranch. They surely had a fine time under the oaks playing five hundred and eating grapes. Mr. Davidson is in the tanning and leather business in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor and a party of friends are spending the week at the Graham ranch.

Extract from a sailor boy's letter: Atlantic Coast.—Back again after experiences which I shall never forget. We saw the lights of the flotta sink lower and lower and at last disappear, while we were firm and fast on the coral reef. We worked like Trojans to lighten the ship, but when we were afloat again it was home again for ours and dreams of glory faded like sunset tints. I am glad it was not the fault of any member of our crew, as that would have meant endless regret. We went far enough to realize the deep gratitude felt toward America for her entry into the war. Of course we don't know what next, but pray to be delivered from "harbor bars."

Mr. A. C. Ridell, salesman for Hoffman Hardware Co., has purchased the hardware stock and lease of L. T. Rowley and will take possession in October. Mr. Ridell is a young, enthusiastic business man and we welcome him to Sunland. Mr. Rowley, the retiring merchant, has long been connected with the interests of the valley and expects to still hold his interest here in the upbuilding and betterment of the valley. We wish him success in whatever business he may engage in.

Mrs. M. A. Huse has resigned her position as postmaster and will retire as soon as a successor is appointed. Mr. and Mrs. Huse will open up a real estate office in the building now occupied by the postoffice.

Mr. Albert Shelley has been appointed by the park commissioner to look after the interests of the park in Sunland. This is move in the right direction and will perhaps do away with the things which have been so annoying in the past. Mr. Shelley is a good man for the place.

Mrs. Graham of the Graham ranch of Sunland has during the past week been honored with the distinguished company of Mr. Charles Degele, assistant office manager, and Mr. Clyde De Long, underwriter for the well-known firm of the Occidental Life Insurance company of Los Angeles, also the Misses Alice and Lillian Lee from England, who have traveled considerably in this country and in Europe. They are both charmed and delighted with California and say anyone should live in the great out of doors and strongly recommend the Graham ranch, where there is always a well-filled table and comfortable tent houses.

TWO CAUSES

Of course unhappiness is the cause of divorce, and much of the unhappiness is due to the circumstance that the wife has nothing to do at home in the daytime and the husband has entirely too much to do downtown at night.—Houston Post.

COUNTING A BILLION

An expert money counter of the United States treasury can count 4,000 silver dollars an hour, or 32,000 a day. At that rate it is figured that it would take him 102 years to count a billion.

CLEANING COAT COLLARS

When the collar of a coat looks shabby and greasy, though the coat is otherwise quite fresh, take a clean rag, dip it in spirits of turpentine and rub the collar all over with it. Leave it for a few minutes, then repeat the process, afterward scraping it gently to remove any loose dirt. Then sponge it carefully with a little alcohol and keep wiping it with a clean cloth until it is nearly dry. Hang it up until it is quite dry. If necessary press the collar with a hot iron, having a thin white cloth between it and the iron. After this treatment the collar will look almost new again.

TO CURE SCARS

Scars are often very ugly things and disagreeable marks when they exist in prominent places on the skin. Probably nothing can remove a big scar the tissue of which has become fibrous and unyielding, but the following recipe, to be applied on lint and allowed to remain on the part for a little time daily, will effect an improvement in small scars and blemishes: Borax, one and a half ounces; salicylic acid, twelve grains; glycerin, three drams; rose-water, six ounces. Mix.

WHAT IS A BOLSHIEVIK?

PETROGRAD, Aug. 29 (By Mail)—What is a bolshevik?

As a general thing, he is an unmarried man, with no home of his own, no responsibilities to children or family. He has no personal affairs of his own to look out for, wherefore he sets out to regulate the world.

In any of the good sized towns of the United States you can see bolsheviks. They usually have flowing ties, wear their hair long, do not shave overmuch, and spend their time showing how wrong things are in the world. A woman bolshevik bobs her hair, if she ever touches it at all.

I have seen them in studios in Washington Square and in basements in London. I have always considered it a thrilling thing to know an anarchist of the bolshevik type; they are generally considered picturesque, even if they are smelly.

But, lying on the pavements of the Letenie the other day, with bolshevik machine guns pouring a rain of bullets down the canyon of the buildings, killing and wounding helpless men, women and children, my former opinions as to the bolsheviks were abruptly changed. Opinions of bolsheviks are picturesque, when they are only opinions. When they are translated into deeds, they are deadly.

There were women bolsheviks in that massacre on the Letenie. The last thing I saw before I threw myself to the sidewalk, was a bob-haired woman, standing in an automobile, beside a machine gun which rested its muzzle on the folded top. It was leading the parade of Kronstad sailors who, fully armed, were marching toward the Duma building; she stood erect like a goddess of madness, with a wild light in her eyes. Half a mile down the street, even as I was looking at her, I heard three shots. They were the signal for the massacre.

The shots ran up along the line of the parade, like fire along a fuse. I saw a movement of persons in the automobile. I did not see what became of the woman but suddenly, from the machine gun beside which she stood, a drum fire of death was poured into the crowds.

Here was all the wild talk I had ever heard among the anarchists of London, New York and Chicago, come true: translated into a massacre. I was seeing bolsheviks at their best: they were showing us all they had; all the theories they had stowed away in their black minds through the times of peace; all the beliefs they had cultivated in their conferences around coffee tables or beer steins; all that they had gained from the wild and sometimes contraband books that anarchists write and read—all these things were being spoken now by these guns that were killing us bystanding folks in the street. The brotherly love that anarchists say will one day rule the world, if anarchism prevails, was totally lacking. These bolsheviks of Russia—and they include the bolsheviks of other countries—have strange beliefs. They want the war to end because, they say, the war is interfering with the brotherhood of men. That is just the sort of doctrine the Germans want to have preached just now, through the earth. The Germans, therefore, who seem to exist in great but subtle strength in Russia, have used the bolsheviks to such an extent that it is impossible, in Petrograd these days, to distinguish between a bolshevik and a German.

In their turn the bolsheviks have used the common people of Russia, both in the army and out of it. By their speeches and their newspapers they have half convinced the working people and the tired Russian soldiers that, if they would only stop helping along the war, their troubles would come to an end; the food shortage would vanish; the bread lines would disappear; soldiers might return to their families and everything would be as before—better than ever before—with the Russian common folk.

The bolsheviks believe that folks throughout the world are like a baby bulldog that, when its tail is pinched, will not turn around to bite the pincher, but will bite the nearest living object in front of it. Some one of them explained the matter to me. "The capitalists of the earth started this war," he said, "and they're keeping it up. What we common folks must do is stop biting each other; we must turn and bite the capitalists and make them end the war."

It only shows the topsyturvydom of the world when I say that this very man was one of those who was out on the streets with machine guns the other day, killing women and children to prove his theory that all men are brothers and that capitalists ought to be killed.

I don't attempt to analyze bolsheviks. I've only tried to describe their indescribable madness. Talking is bad enough; but their Petrograd massacre was an insane orgy. Side by side with the Germans, side by side with the friends of the ex-czar who want to see him reelected on the throne, they fought unarmed people and killed them with a ruthlessness that only a czar would have used.

WHERE HE WAS WEAK

"That boy of mine knows a lot of Latin," said Mr. Cobbles. "Yes?" "He kin translate them Latin words on a silver dollar just like a flash, but not unless somebody lends him th' dollar."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FIGHTING THE FIREBUGS

There is a mutual understanding between all the first class insurance offices in England that they should warn each other of a customer whose conduct is suspicious, and such a warning is conveyed in a very simple yet effective way.

Each company has a number of cards printed. These are deeply edged in black, the center of the card bearing the name of the company which issues it. When a company has suspicions regarding a customer one of its officers takes a number of these cards, writes on the reverse side the name and address, or different names and addresses in some cases, of the suspected man and sends around the cards to the other offices.

These cards are regarded as absolutely confidential, and they are never sent around till the company which issues them has, through the staff of inquiry officers always kept for such purposes, found strong evidence against the man whose names they bear.

Each company keeps a book regularly posted with these cards in it, and the book is more frequently consulted than the general public would imagine. Many of these volumes of black edged warnings are bulky ones.

The aliases and changes of residence of each suspicious customer are carefully noted in the book, and it is computed that these cards save the companies thousands of pounds a year.

Salvage companies also issue these "insurance warnings." Whenever a salvage officer notes the slightest suspicious circumstance amid the ruins of a fire he duly reports it.—London Tit-Bits.

CLIPPING WITH A PIN

When you lose your knife or do not have a pair of scissors at hand for cutting the paper, a common pin or needle of any kind serves the purpose admirably, says Popular Science Monthly. If it is a single sheet from which the clipping is to be removed, lay the part on another paper, hold the pin slantwise so that the point will follow around the clipping, just as if tracing an outline. Pass back over the scratch with the point in the lead, and you will be surprised how smoothly the pin cuts the paper.

HIDDEN NAME

Take what is first in mercy, first in affection, first in righteousness and first in kindness and you will have the name of a man who wrote a book of the New Testament. Answer.—Mark.

HIDE AND SEEK SEATED

The players sit in a circle, and some one who is chosen looks around for a good place—such as a picture, for instance—and says, "I am hid." Then all guess where she has hidden herself, and the person that guesses is "it" and does the hiding.

In the daily routine of life you ask of those with whom you come in contact both honesty and fairness of treatment.

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.

THE LIBERTY MOTOR.

Early rumors of the "Liberty Motor" were received with caution. We have had so many marvellous war inventions that editors and readers naturally await more data before crediting flash announcements of new devices "destined to win the war." But in the case of the airplane motor in question, the first reports seem to have been justified.

It appears, from statements made by responsible officials, that American mechanical genius has really created a motor so light, strong and dependable that it can be used to give heavy battle planes the speed and control of fast scout planes, in the war zone. Secretary of War Baker is so thoroughly convinced of its value that he says of it, "Probably the war has produced no greater single achievement."

Detailed descriptions, naturally, cannot be published. It suffices to say that the motor has been accepted by the government and will soon be turned out in enormous quantities, to supply the great air fleet for which congress has voted more than half a billion dollars.

This is a genuine national achievement. We might also say that the nation as a whole has created the Liberty Motor. For it is the invention of no one man or establishment. It has been invented by a totally new method.

The government found itself in need of an airplane motor. It called upon the gas engine and aviation experts of the country to provide one. The best men in this line got together and went to work. All their ideas and efforts were pooled. Every expert contributed the best he had. Within a few weeks the wonderful engine was evolved, a composite product for which no individual engineer claims credit, a masterpiece created by a whole profession.

OUR GREAT FRUIT CROP

Shipments of deciduous fruits from California to points outside this state will reach the grand total of 20,000 cars. This yield is of the estimated value of $30,000,000. This makes a record, both in volume of shipments and in value. The enormous yield of deciduous orchards has been well conserved this year. Besides the shipments of fresh fruits to market, vast quantities have been canned or dried. Comparatively little has gone to waste.

The splendid work that has been done this season in conserving the state's fruit crop should be duplicated, from year to year. Whether in war or in peace; whether in times of abundance or of dearth, it is a shame to have fruit, or any useful food product, go to waste. With facilities for canning and drying the surplus not required for the ready market, California should preserve for the world its magnificent orchard yield without waste.
